"Wisdom does not show itself so much in precept as in life—in a firmness of mind and mastery of appetite. It teaches us to do, as well as to talk; and to make our actions and words all of a color."

Seneca — Epistles XX

We will always remember the enjoyment and satisfaction that color has brought into our lives. Color speaks as well as lives in our everyday works—it expresses our many moods. As we walk down the corridors we always look forward to the cheerful colors from the many posters—cheering our Raiders to victory, the intriguing urge for everyone to come to dances, the Junior Prom and the Senior Ball. As we look in our HOUR GLASS of 1966, we will never forget the instantaneous power that color brought to us at Minerva DeLand. As for our future, color will surround us no matter what our goal in life may be.

DEDICATION

MR. JOSEPH CUMMINGS

We, the Class of 1966, dedicate this yearbook to you, Mr. Cummings, because you have been such an inspiration to us throughout our high school years. You have taught us something we cannot learn from books. You have taught us to be good school citizens, to help our teams out when they need us the most. Most important, you have taught us what it means to have Fairport spirit. Because you have shared unselfishly your own dynamic spirit, we have become better persons. Your forcefulness at pep assemblies makes us proud to have such a wonderful person as you behind us. This is but a small tribute to your indomitable spirit.

CLASS HISTORY

With our newly elected officers, Chris Colten, president; Bob Herzog, vice-president; Sue Scott, secretary; and Anna Pascini, treasurer, we successfully started the first of our four years. The Senior Class welcomed us freshmen with the "Freshman Fling." Class dues were paid to save for our Junior Prom and Senior Ball. Mrs. Hurley and Mr. Lalik acted as advisors.

Our sophomore candy sale boosted our treasury by well over $2,000, proving that we were professional salesmen. The "Soph Hop" was the largest dance of the year with Mr. Lalik and Mrs. Hurley as advisors. Elected class officers were Tom Stevens, president; Bob Herzog, vice-president; Carole Schmidt, secretary; and Anna Pascini, treasurer. We came in last in the class day events—well, no one is perfect!

At last we were juniors and that great day of getting our junior rings finally arrived. And then before we realized it, everyone was busily preparing Tahitian decorations for "Lanikai," our Junior Prom. After vigorous campaigning, Steve Kinney was elected president of Student Council with Dick Oder, vice-president and Carole Schmidt, secretary. Julie Everhart was later appointed treasurer. Class officers for the year were Tom Stevens, president; Jan DeLano, vice-president; Carole Schmidt, secretary and Doug Casella, treasurer. Class advisors, Mrs. Hurley and Mr. Guyer, helped make our year a most successful one.

Successful campaigners for 1966 class officers were Chris Colton, president; Jan DeLano, vice-president; Jennie DiMatteo, secretary and Anna Pascini, treasurer. Class advisors were Mrs. Hurley and Mr. Loopman.

Our senior magazine sale was a moderate success. Bob Schworm, Pam Haines and Jean Budgeon were top salesmen. We were also fortunate to have as our guests Myriam Rasoazanamialy from Madagascar and Anke Koenders from the Netherlands. Myriam's host sister was Elise Jensen and Anke's was Sue Farnum. In December, Len Hawley and his orchestra played for the highlight of the year, the "Snow Ball." After this was our Senior Banquet, graduation, and the outside world. From the help of our advisors and administration we seniors were guided on our separate paths. Thanks to all who had a part in the Class of 1966. We will never forget you and Fairport High.

SENIOR BALL

Eat, drink, and be merry! say these people as they step up to the food line.

Fairporters extend their international good will.

"This past summer in France was more than just a wonderful vacation for me. It was an adventure in learning and an experience that I will never forget.

I lived with the Bout's family, adjusting to customs and traditions much older and different than the American ones I am used to. I won't try to describe a typical Frenchman. It's the same with Americans — there isn't one typical one.

For three weeks I lived on the coast of Brittany. The beautiful coast is much more majestic than that of Maine. We then traveled across central France, a vast plain, covered mostly by wheat and much of it being harvested with hand tools.

Someday, I hope one of you will be able to see all that I saw in France. I hope you can come to love it as much as I do."

Even the parents enjoyed themselves dancing to the music of Bill Bradley.

Paris

France will live long in Joan's memories.

FAIRPORTERS ACTIVE

"On June 26 the "Seven Seas" sailed for Europe from New York City with eight hundred American Field Service exchange students aboard. We arrived in Rotterdam after ten days of language classes, discussion groups, orientation and recreation. Forty-six of us went to Norway from Rotterdam through Hamburg and Copenhagen and up the coast of Sweden.

My family met me at Oslo. There was Mor, my mother; Far, my father; and Vera, my sister. We lived in a small lumbering village seventy miles southwest of Oslo. During the summer I spent five days in Oslo, eight days in the Oslofjord, and ten days in the mountains. Everyone that I met was extremely friendly. I was also impressed by the general knowledge of English.

By living in a country with different language, food, customs, and attitudes, I came to feel deeply the need for world understanding. Last summer was indeed the highlight of my life so far, and I could never begin to measure all that I learned."

Carole Schmidt remembers her wonderful summer in Norway.

IN FOREIGN AFFAIRS

"Under the Youth For Understanding program, I stayed with a family in Braunschweig, Germany last summer. The first few days were confusing, often discouraging. But, I added to my vocabulary each day and, by the end of August, I could speak easily—in Deutsch! Adjusting to another way of life was also a challenge. The meals, homes, stores, customs were different.

In July, I went to school six days a week with my friend Monika. During August, I traveled with a group of English students. We spent days in the Harz Mountains, Hannover, Hamburg, and Lenste, a children's camp on the Baltic Sea. My three days in Berlin were most memorable. Downtown West Berlin is modern, clean, the showplace of democracy. The Wall is horrible—miles of concrete and barbed wire.

I love Germany and I've made many friends there. YFU is doing a tremendous job in promoting world peace through its exchange program."

The souvenirs from Germany bring back fond memories to Sue Scott.

It's difficult to give your feelings about a country because there are a lot of differences between that country and your own: education system, food, climate, way of living and so on. . .

To-day, I'll try to share with you my impressions on the first day of school. I was struck by the kindness of the students: they were willing to help me so that I wouldn't get confused that day. Sometimes, when I was even waiting for somebody in front of the door, someone came to me and said: "Hi Myriam! Can I help you?" I wish they could do that but there was nothing to help me with. The very problem you meet when you are an exchange student is not only to be friendly to many people that you haven't seen nor known anything about before but it is also the understanding of the language. It is the key of your life among the community: What would you answer when you don't understand the questions you were asked? At home, it was not a problem because there was nothing to be bashful of, but at school you are rather afraid to be a trouble-maker and to interrupt your attention to the teachers. You hesitate but your conscience doesn't let you to miss anything so at last you don't know what courage pushes you to ask the questions. Then, you discovered that you are not a trouble-maker after all, your neighbour is so glad to help you and you both understand better not only the course but also each other and it becomes a real friendship. The teachers and the school staff are also willing to help you whenever you need it. In our school at home, one period lasts an hour and during the week we had, for instance, twice a week two periods besides two other double-periods for French and English and Maths; our schedule there, was weekly so you can do your homework ahead of time, but for that you must be well-organized. At home we have also two hours for lunch and we go home for it.

There are many other differences but when you really want to live the life that the people in the country where you are staying have, you don't realize them and you don't feel to be a foreign person at all.

American foods are very different from Malagasy foods.

Myriam displays the many handmade articles from her country.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Our exchange student from Holland, Anke Koenders, finds this country much to her liking. The students are very friendly and she has made many friends since she came.

Having had no American history before coming here, Anke finds this subject quite difficult. She says here she must do more on her own, especially review, whereas at home the teachers do more review with the students and test them on material that they have memorized.

Anke finds our food quite a bit different from Dutch food, mostly in the way that it is prepared. She has had to make an adjustment to our food, but now that she is accustomed to it she likes it more, although she still prefers Dutch food. In Holland they consider vegetables as the main part of the meal and meat second. They use the same foods as we do, but they are prepared differently.

Our weather here is similar to that in Holland. We have more snow here, but the temperatures are about the same. Contrary to our stereotype of Dutchmen skating to work, school, and everywhere, Anke says most Dutch people only skate for pleasure. It's mostly in the northern part of the country where they skate.

If she had another chance she would very much like to return to this country to study.

Anke enjoys participating in intramurals.

Membership in the National Honor Society is based on Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and Character. Students are considered who have an average of eighty-five per cent or above and rank in the upper fifteen per cent of the Senior Class or the upper ten per cent of the Junior Class. After a skit explaining the keystones of the National Honor Society, these seventeen students were tapped by Senior members of the society last May. During the candlelighting ceremony which followed, new members received their pins and membership cards, then recited the pledge of the society.

RAIDERS HAVE

The Raiders, under the direction of Coach Paul Lopez, ended a long hard season of seven close losses and one tie. The Raiders were plagued with injuries early in the season. Bob Herzog, Doug Williams, and Mark Aurand were lost for part of the season. The Raider offense, during the season, never seemed to be able to give the defense enough points to work on. Many games were lost by under eight points. On the defense, Chuck Herzog did a fine job on pass interceptions. Bob Porta, Eric Tadio, and Rocco Menaguale did a fine job of bringing down the other team's runners.

The annual East Rochester game was a battle of defensive teams. The lone E.R. touchdown was stolen from the grasp of a Fairport defender. This touchdown went on to be the only and winning touchdown. An outstanding player on Fairport's team was junior fullback Jay Sweet, who ran with speed and power.

Despite the heartbreaking season, two outstanding Varsity seniors were honored as All-County selections. Rocky Menaguale was elected to all "tackle" and Eric Tadio received honorable mention.

PITCHMEN

Captains Todd Prozeller and Gary Atkinson, along with honorary captain Tom Stevens, joke with Coach Paddock.

The '65 Raiders soccer team ended the season with a league record of 4 wins and 7 losses. They played 16 games this year finishing with an overall record of 8 wins against 8 losses—one of the best records in Fairport's seven years of Varsity competition.

Seniors Gary Atkinson and Todd Prozeller were chosen co-captains. Other seniors on the squad included Jan DeLano, Dave Gropp, Terry Rieck, Dave North and Tom Stevens. Bill Shearer, a Junior, led the scoring for the year with 8 goals. Bill, along with Gary Atkinson, was chosen for the second team of Monroe County's All-Star selections.

Coach Paddock looks forward to an even better season next year with eleven lettermen returning. Coach Petty's JayVee record of 12 wins, 2 ties, and 2 losses indicates that many strong Sophomores are ready to move up to fight for positions on the 1966 squad.

Highlighting the Raider's season was a 2-0 victory over Gates Chili, the defending league champions. Another thriller was a 1-0 loss to Webster—the 1965 Section V champions.

This year the cross-country team competed in Class A. The team consisted of 13 boys, including five lettermen. The captain was Dick Copp. One of the best showings was a victory over Livonia. The four top boys for Fairport in Section V Tournaments were Tom Ranscoe, Greg Deller, Robert Copp and Richard Copp.

This season the Varsity started with only two lettermen—Jan DeLano and Bill Shearer, this year's co-captains. The 1964-65 J.V.'s with 7-10 records composed the rest of the squad.

Hustle, spirit, and great desire were the motivations that kept the team going strong.

One of the highlights of the season was the 56-50 win over the tall and strong Rush-Henrietta team.

The team has been led by high-scoring Gary Raymond and Bill Shearer. Jan DeLano, the other senior besides Gary Atkinson, has often hit double figures.

The J.V. squad shows promise with a 5-6 record so far.

TEAM SETS NEW RECORDS

The returning lettermen gave this year's team good potential. Co-Captains Tom Stevens and Terry Newcomb have been members of the team for four years. Stevens holds the Class 'B' Sectional 100 yard Backstroke record. Newcomb has records in the 100 yard Butterfly and the 200 yard Individual Medley. Bren Bacon holds school records in the 100 yard and 50 yard Freestyle. Eric Longstreet, Jim Towner, and Bruce Keplin are other Seniors who have done well.

Juniors—Dave Friar, Jim Trowell, Bob Roe, and Mike Cummings have been doing well in the Varsity meets. Sophomores—Lorin Rhydstrom, Jack Russell, Steve Grose, and Dave Wohlrab have had experience in many Varsity events. Freshman Steve Whitman has added strength in the Freestyle distance events. A good turnout of underclassmen has given the Raiders a good Junior Varsity team.

This year, the Raiders swam six non-league and ten league meets and competed in the Section V Class 'B' Sectionals at Geneseo State Teachers College in March.

UNDERCLASSMEN DOMINATE SQUAD

The Red Raiders Wrestling Squad has worked hard this year. Their victory over Wheatland-Chili and their participation in the County Tournament at East Rochester at the end of February were highlights of the season.

Dave North and Terry Rieck were the only seniors on this year's squad. Terry wrestled out of his weight class in several meets and did well. Richard Frey has the best record at press time — only one loss to an Eastridge opponent. Jamie Aparo, a first year wrestler, has made a big contribution to the squad. Frank Terrore was captain this year and Mr. Logan was the new coach.

7 SCHOOL RECORDS BROKEN

Captains: Scott Davis and Lynn Prescott

The 1965 trackmen ended their season with a 7-1 record. They placed second in the Eastern Track Division of Monroe County Schools and tied for fourth place in the Monroe County Championships held at Brighton.

Fifteen lettermen returned; Scott Davis and Lynn Prescott were captains. Seven School records were broken. Larry Zuller: Two mile in 10:37.3. Fred Volpe: 180 yard hurdles in 21.5. Scott Davis: 220 yard dash in 22.2. Lynn Prescott: 440 yard dash in 51.3. Wayne Hulbert: 40'7" in the triple jump. Bill Pittinaro: 21'4¾" in the broad jump.

Fairport's relay team, Earl Brakenwagon, Scott Davis, John LeCain, and Greg Ludwig, were defeated only by Rush-Henrietta during season competition. Their best time was 1:35.2.

Lynn Prescott was winner of the 440 yard dash in the Monroe County Championships with a time of 51.7 seconds. In Section V Tournaments held at the University of Rochester, Prescott won the quarter mile race in 51.3 seconds. This time was the fastest in Monroe County last year. A great deal is expected of Lynn in the 1966 season.

TENNIS TEAM—First Row: Mr. Amyot, D. Fish, C. Colton. Second Row: F. Heil, T. Stevens, B. Colwill.

Chris!

TENNIS TEAM IS GREAT!

Our 1965 tennis team had another successful season. They ended in a tie for first place with Pittsford in the Eastern Division of the Monroe County League. The boys won seven matches, lost one, and tied two.

In interdivisional playoffs, Fairport defeated Hilton, and then lost to Pittsford in the County Finals. Dale Fish and Chris Colton, Fairport's doubles team, won over Pittsford, Brighton, and Spencerport before losing to Penfield in Sectional play. This second place in Monroe County earned our doubles team the right to play in the Section V Tournament. After victories over Livonia and Newark, Dale and Chris lost in the semifinal round to Monroe High School of Rochester.

This spring, the team will have the advantage of new home courts located at Martha Brown School. Previously the team could only play away because there are not enough good courts available. With the addition of these six new courts, the team will be able to practice more and have matches on familiar courts.

With only one member of last year's team graduated, tennis coach Mr. Amyot looks forward to an even better season in 1966.

VARITY—First Row: M. Goehle, E. Tadio, P. Sargeant, G. Atkinson, B. Porta, G. Raymond, C. Reed. Second Row: Mr. Brownell, D. Handyside, C. Miracle, L. Schaffer, C. Pittinaro, G. Phillips, J. Cuykendall, J. Memmo.

RAIDERS HAVE 12-5 SEASON

Fairport's Varsity Baseball team won twelve and lost five in its 1965 season.

Charley Pittinaro pitched consistently well and led the team in hitting with a .404 average. Included in his barrage of 23 hits were several doubles, a couple of triples, and one hard-earned home run.

Captain Gary Phillips provided the hustling leadership that kept the Raiders in a "never too late to win" attitude.

Lynn Schaffer led the team in runs scored with 17. The "slap-hitting" left-handed swinger stretched many wrong field singles into doubles and doubles into triples.

Charley Miracle was the "walking man" again with 14 bases on balls.

Jack Cuykendall supplied the greatest long ball hitting exhibitions by homering well back on the second terrace in dead center field on the home field and following up with the longest "two base hit" in Monroe County baseball history at East Rochester.

These departing seniors will be missed by Coach Brownell but new faces will fill the gaps capably. Returning from last year will be pitchers Eric Tadio, Dave Gropp, Pat Sargeant, and Gary Raymond. Infielders will include Bob Porta and Gary Atkinson. Charley Reed, a freshman last year, has three more seasons ahead of him as centerfielder.

From the J.V. squad, expectations are quite high for catcher Lex Sleeman, pitchers Steve House and John Miner, infielders Scott Faucher, Chuck Herzog, Lennie Gilbert, and Glenn Granger. Kip Amyot and Chuck Schultz both had good seasons in Coach Paliwadzinski's outfield.

As the highlight of this year's Student Council activities, a Winter Carnival was planned. This new undertaking engaged class competition in the form of a fair and was concluded by a dance.

A new project was the formation of the senior lounge, where seniors with at least an 82 average can spend their free periods at leisure.

This year the Committee for Better Assembly Entertainment was organized to help bring assembly programs that are more interesting to the students of our school.

Unity is the essential ingredient for making a yearbook. Of course, let's not forget the blood, sweat, and tears! The start of the school year brought twenty-one seniors, composing the art and editorial staffs, to Room 300. We worked together for a theme and struggled through many ideas before making our final choice. The art staff worked diligently on liners, division pages, and sketches. The editorial staff cropped and reduced pictures with loving care. They wrote write-ups and arranged layout after layout after layout . . . after layout. The business staff performed the necessary tasks of obtaining yearbook sponsors and selling subscriptions. Although each staff had a separate job, everyone worked together, doing whatever was needed. Because we have worked together, and we can proudly say with very little hair pulling, using the best of each talent, we hope we have created what will be an enjoyable and memorable yearbook for everyone.

MUSIC GROUPS EXCEL IN PERFORMANCE

ORCHESTRA OFFICERS: J. Towner, C. Sanford, K. Jackson.

Fairport's music department excelled in performance this year. In '64-'65 competition the Select Band and the Varsity Choir received A+ ratings in grade VI. A plus is received when extra pieces are performed. The Senior Band, now renamed the Symphonic Band, received a B rating in grade V. This year for the first time the marching band was deleted because of lack of finances. Many people in the school and community miss this colorful addition to our football games.

Our groups performed several times during the year for school assemblies and the community. The three groups combined with Penfield for a concert in November. The Symphonic Band, the Mixed Chorus, and the Orchestra played together the Mass in G by Schubert with Mr. Petty and Mr. Hall singing the tenor and bass solos. Each group presented its own spring concert and they all worked to better their competition scores this year.

ORCHESTRA—First Row: M. Schwartz, A. Toland, M. J. Bluhm, C. Sanford, E. Hull, B. Bay, E. Meyer. Second Row: D. Jackson, R. Chiodo, S. Kinney, N. Lauder, L. Hull, K. Jackson, D. Hill. Third Row: E.
